Notice to Employer

Do you have to file? Refer to the Form 1040 instructions to determine if you are required to file a tax return. Even if you do not have to file a tax return, you may be eligible for a refund if box 2 shows an amount or if you are eligible for a refund.

Employer's identification number (EIN). You may be able to file the EIC for 2013 if your adjusted gross income (AGI) is less than a certain amount. The amount of credit is based on income and family size. Worksheet without children would qualify for a smaller credit. You and any qualifying children must have valid Social Security numbers (SSNs). You cannot take the EIC if your investment income is more than the specified amount for 2013 or if income is earned for services provided while you were in custody of a state institution. For 2013 income limits and more information, visit www.irs.gov/eitc. Also see Pub. 796, Earned Income Credit, for more information on your eligibility.

Church and religious workers. If you are not subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes, see Pub. 517, Social Security and Other Information for Members of the Church and Religious Workers. Charitable workers. If you are not subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes, see Pub. 517, Social Security and Other Information for Members of the Church and Religious Workers. Charitable workers. If you are not subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes, see Pub. 517, Social Security and Other Information for Members of the Church and Religious Workers.

Cost of employer-sponsored health or dental coverage. If you are not subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes, see Pub. 517, Social Security and Other Information for Members of the Church and Religious Workers. Charitable workers. If you are not subject to Social Security and Medicare taxes, see Pub. 517, Social Security and Other Information for Members of the Church and Religious Workers.
